

PRIVACY POLICY

FOR FRIENDS OF PATIENTS AT THE NIH WEBSITE

Your privacy is extremely important to Friends of Patients at the NIH (Friends at NIH). Friends at NIH does not collect any identifying information about visitors to our website. Friends at NIH maintains control of any names, mailing addresses or email addresses submitted by users of its website, including donor pages. Friends at NIH may subcontract certain services related to its website but such subcontractors are strictly prohibited from sharing information gathered for/by Friends at NIH with any other organization or company. Friends at NIH does not sell, rent, or otherwise share its membership list or database.

Friends at NIH does not use profiling tools such as cookies. Friends at NIH only maintains the information the website user explicitly gives us. For example, if you visit our site to read or download information, we may collect and store only the following information about you:

1. The date and time you accessed our site.
2. The URL's of the pages you visited and the address of the Internet site from which you linked directly to your site.
3. The name of the domain from which you accessed the Internet (for example, we will store only "hotmail.com" or "aol.com", if you are connecting from a Hot Mail or America on Line account).

Friends at NIH uses the information we collect to measure the number of visitors to the different sections of our site, and to help us make our site more useful to visitors. Credit card information used to make donations or order event tickets is routed through a secure, private third party and that information is only used for its intended purpose. It is Friends at NIH's policy to not retain credit card information after such transfers are made.

If you identify yourself by sending email, you may decide to send us personally identifying information. After responding to any request, Friends at NIH does not store any personally identifying information from visitors sent via email. Friends at NIH does not knowingly collect or maintain information on persons under 18 years old, except such information provided by a parent or legal guardian.

DISCLAIMER

Friends at NIH provides its website strictly as an informational and educational tool. Friends at NIH shall not be held liable in the event of incidental or consequential damages arising from the use of information provided on this Internet site. The information made available through Friends at NIH 's website is meant solely to inform you as a consumer about programs sponsored by Friends at NIH or resources that might be of educational or informational value to you.

AUTHORSHIP

Most of the information posted to the website is original Friends at NIH material; however, Friends at NIH may post material authored by individuals or organizations other than Friends at NIH. In those instances, materials will be posted only from sources known to be reputable and responsible and authorship will be prominently noted.

LINKS

When you click to unaffiliated third-party sites, Friends at NIH is not responsible for, and has no control over, the information collection or privacy practices of that site. It is important that you review and understand the privacy policies posted on any linked sites you visit before volunteering any of your personal information. These sites may also collect cookies, or allow third-party advertisers on their sites to collect cookies. You can often find information regarding a site and its privacy policy on the site's home page. If you cannot find or do not like a site's privacy policy, you may prefer not to do business with, or offer information to, that site.
